Follow Sandra and friends as they navigate life, love, and their late-twenties in Germany's hip Berlin.

While Sandra tries desperately to remember what happened that night trapped with Nils in the storeroom, she figures out what to do with the Doric columns: contact Oliver. He offers her one of his apartments as a storage room. Tassilo proposes a tempting but scandalous business opportunity to Sandra, one that would also help her fulfill her many search requests. Torn between her conscience and her job, Sandra turns to Nils and Captain for advice.

Meanwhile, Sandra's father discovers the virtual world of the internet and immerses himself in "new-fangled" ways of communication.

The Coffee Shop - a cozy café in Germany's capital, Berlin - just happens to be the best office in the world. From here, Sandra practices her quirky trade as a "finder-of things." She caters to customers who have lost or want to find something that's missing from their lives. Doric Columns as an engagement gift? Check. Missing childhood photos? Done. But in her quest to grant other people's wishes, Sandra suddenly finds herself in search of her own happiness - and of herself. Toss in a dead goose, and it's the perfect recipe for romantic disaster.

Berlin Coffee Shop is a new digital serial novel for fans of "Sex and the City," "Friends," and "How I met your Mother." The story is told in six parts, as each novella builds upon the next. Berlin Coffee Shop is produced by German publishing house, Bastei Luebbe in cooperation with TV production company Saxonia Media GmbH.

Author Gerlis Zillgens lives in Germany and has written novels and screenplays and developed TV series.
