Assessment of Library Collections in a Consortial Environment: Experiences From Ohio

The consortial environment provides librarians with new ways to manage collections at their home institutions. Academic libraries in Ohio have been participating in OhioLINK since 1988, and the consortium has had an effect on shaping local collections for more than one decade. While each institution pursues its own collection management strategy, the shared resources and delivery system provided through OhioLINK influence local collections profoundly. What has been the effect? This work is a collection of articles assessing local collections within a consortial environment. The authors assess collections from their own vantage points, considering such diverse factors as cost, regional depositories, book reviews, and faculty input. The influence of consortial ties in shaping local collections is a common thread throughout the work.

This book was published as a special issue of Collection Management.

As a student exactly feel bored to help reading. If their teacher asked them to go to the library or even make summary for some guide, they are complained. Just tiny students that has reading's heart or real their leisure activity. They just do what the instructor want, like asked to go to the library. They go to there but nothing reading critically. Any students feel that reading is not important, boring along with can't see colorful photos on there. Yeah, it is for being complicated. Book is very important for yourself. As we know that on this time, many ways to get whatever we would like. Likewise word says, many ways to reach Chinese's country. Therefore , this Assessment of Library Collections in a Consortial Environment: Experiences From Ohio can make you sense more interested to read.
