Regional Satellite Oceanography S.V.VICTOROV

This work addresses the whole range of problems relating to the application of satellite technology to studies of regional seas and sea phenomena - the Gulf Stream, the Kuroshio Current - and coastal zones. It argues that to emphasize global applications is to fail to take into account fundamental idiosyncrasies specific to the regional perspective. In addition, it describes implementation techniques - data gathering; in situ data assurance, algorithms for parameter retrieval; data storage; and data output.; The book contains satellite imagery and incorporates case studies from areas such as the Baltic and the Black Sea. Key Features

- * Written by the world's leading authority on the subject
- * Includes rarely or never before seen colour and black and white illustrations
- * Planning the execution of the Earth Observation system by the former USSR is described
